PROPHECY

As I walked around the grounds of the carnival, I saw a tent of a fortune teller. Immediately, I thought of seeing about our past class of 1956; that is, to see how my four classmates were making out since the good old B. P. H. S. days.

The first person I happened to see was Deanna Housley - contented in role as a happy housewife, in a log house near her new kingdom, a well-to-do saw mill.

Next, was Don Pope, and believe you me, Don's old football days have really paid off, because here he is - the outstanding player on the Notre Dame Football Team. His famous plays and successive points have really made Notre Dame a famous team.

Can you imagine who I saw next - no one but Pat Albee, who is now a prominent engineer (electrical) in some far off city of which I couldn't grasp the name. Probably, he has made some of our fang-dangled new kitchen devices that really are (probably) working to perfection, because of all the studying Pat did in those chemistry and physics classes in school.

Finally, as usual, last but not least, Russell Daniels was spotted through the crystal ball. At first I couldn't imagine if this were Russ or not, because here he sat behind an electrically equipped mahogany desk. It appeared as if he is the owner of an experimental farm machinery devices plant.

It seemed good that I could see my old (not really) classmates again, even if it was just through the crystal ball.

CLASS WILL

I, Russell Daniels, will my three pairs of football shoes to anybody who wants them and my position as Student Council President to the one next year.

I, Pat Albee, will my tallness to Richard Kundert, hoping he will make good use of it.

I, Don Pope, will my football suit to "Mouse" Daniels, hoping he will grow into it and my tailback spot to anyone who can make better use of it than I did.

I, Deanna Housley, will my collection of earrings to Kathy McGinnis and I hope she will get as much pleasure as I did from them; my Annual job as Editor to Darlene Vickrey, hoping she has as cooperative a staff as did I; and my job taking lunch tickets to Gary Thompson.
